

iPad Notebook

Tips, Thoughts & Apps
Justin S. Kahn, Esq.

Adjunct Professor, Charleston School of Law

www.kahnlawfirm.com

Board Certified Medical Malpractice, Civil Trial Advocate & Civil Pretrial Practice Advocacy

Author South Carolina Rules of Procedure Annotated & South Carolina Rules of Evidence Annotated

iBooks Update

Clear Update

Email Subscription

Enter your email address to subscribe to this blog and receive notifications of new posts by email.

Join 682 other followers

Sign me up!

Top Posts

- > How to Get Emoji Keyboard on iPad
- > Pages - How to Create Folders to Organize Documents
- > How to Organize Your iPad Apps
- > Emoji Keyboard for iOS7 - How to add to your iPad
- > Calendars 5 Free for Limited Time
- > How to Backup iPad App Data Files
- > Stream Music to Your iPad from a Mac
- > iPad Hotspot - How to Turn it On & Share
- > Pages - How to Name Your Document
- > iPad, iPad Mini Manual and User Guide

Search...

Recent Comments

- Aliasqar Babat (@ali... on LoqMeIn Free Changes - I...
- Justin Kahn on Note Taking Apps NoteLedge Pre...
- Kelley Cannon on Note Taking Apps NoteLedge Pre...
- Jack Manners on Adobe Lightroom Comes to ...
- Kristan Bourestom on Notes Plus 4.0 Released...

- > RSS - Posts
- > RSS - Comments

Kahn Law Firm, LLP

562 Savannah Highway
 Charleston, SC 29407
 843.577.2128
 M-F 8:30 am - 5:30 pm
 weekends by appointment

April 22, 2012

TrialPad Update

Justin Kahn App litigation, presenter, trial 3 Comments

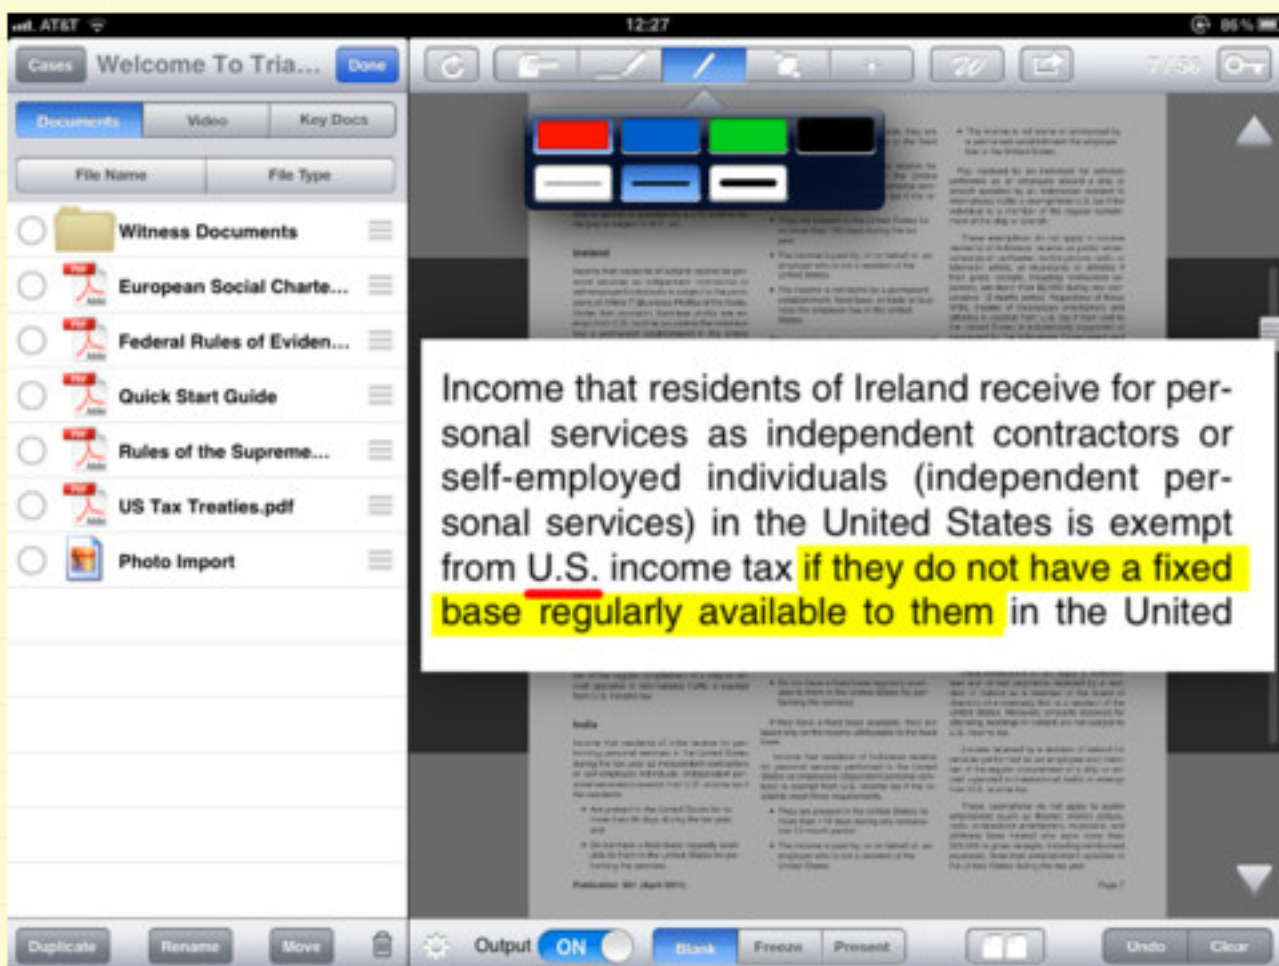

Rate This

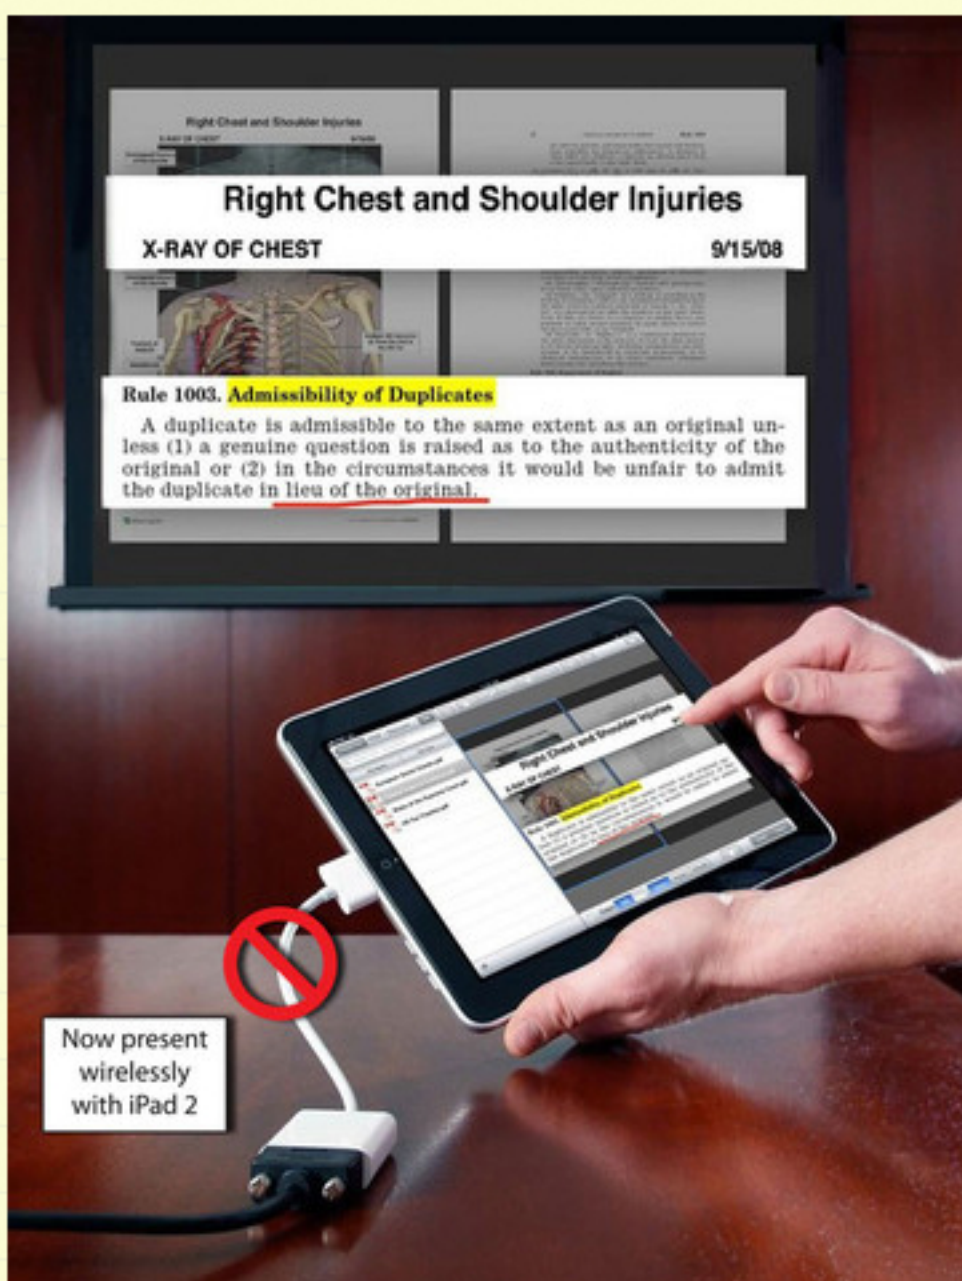

TrialPad updated its presentation app this week. The update addresses the following:

- ★ Optimized for the iPad retina display:
 - Performance improvements for rendering PDFs in retina quality.
 - New high-resolution user interface.
- ★ Callouts now enabled for documents that are zoomed in.
- ★ Fix for missing Key Docs after moving the source document.
- ★ Fix for videos not playing after moving the source video file.

TrialPad is an app that allows you to present documents, video and other evidence in real time in court. It is a legal document manager and presenter. You can create separate client folders easily to keep your information organized.

With TrialPad, you can present documents dynamically. One of the compelling features is the ability to annotate or mark up documents, in real time, for the jury to see. You can zoom in or out of documents with ease.

You can check out the videos that explain the app here or download the quick start guide here.