

iPad Notebook

Tips, Thoughts & Apps

Justin S. Kahn

kahnlawfirm.com

Drafts 4 Updated

iWork iOS Suite Updated

Email Subscription

Enter your email address to subscribe to this blog and receive notifications of new posts by email.

Join 835 other followers

Sign me up!

Top Posts

- > How to Get Emoji Keyboard on iPad
- > Pages - How to Create Folders to Organize Documents
- > How to Organize Your iPad Apps
- > Simple Speed Shortcuts - AutoText Completion for iOS devices and Macs too!
- > How to Backup iPad App Data Files
- > DocReviewPad for iPad Released
- > Emoji Keyboard for iOS7 - How to add to your iPad
- > How to Sync Safari Between Mac and iPad
- > iPad, iPad Mini Manual and User Guide
- > iPad2 User Guide Available for Download

Recent Comments

- valentin10 on Drafts 4 Updated
- Justin Kahn on Index Card 4 – Corkboard...
- jjohnson on Index Card 4 – Corkboard...
- Justin Kahn on iOS 8.4 Released
- Chet Ternes on iOS 8.4 Released

- > RSS - Posts
- > RSS - Comments

Kahn Law Firm, LLP

562 Savannah Highway
Charleston, SC 29407
843.577.2128
M-F 8:30 am - 5:30 pm
weekends by appointment

July 7, 2015

DocReviewPad for iPad Released

Justin Kahn App, Review Bates Number, DocReviewPad for iPad, Lit Software, litigation, organizer, pdf Leave a comment

Rate This

DocReviewPad for iPad is the latest app from Lit Software and promises to make reviewing, bates numbering and producing documents for litigation easier and more helpful. This app is for lawyers, paralegals and others who need to organize and review electronic documents.

The app allows you to import various documents, assign custom Bates numbers and review the documents with built in tags to help you organize the information into reports and import them directly into TrialPad, an app to help you organize and present information for trial, mediation and depositions.

You can assign custom Bates numbers, with up to 6 letters and 9 numbers, that automatically increment on every page (e.g. Smith-123456789). With each page having it's own number it makes it easier to determine that everyone is on the same page when referencing the document at trial or in a deposition.

You can sort by Bates numbers, or perform a Search to find a page with a particular Bates range. After assigning a Bates number you can edit the location of the Bates number to eight possible positions, to making sure important information is not written over by the numbers.

You can have all your documents on your iPad in a searchable, easy to access, and organized way.

Annotation tools like highlighters and pens make marking up documents easy. Make sure to tap and hold on the Annotate button to have the highlighter colors, pens and markers appear.

You can also use the search feature to find words in documents you are looking for as well. The document will need to be a searchable PDF to search for language in the document.

Client meetings, hearings and mediations no longer require large boxes of files. You still may need to print the documents to mark as exhibits. But, carrying around all of the documents in an electronic format makes the task of finding just the right document easier.

Whether you need to create a set of documents to produce, review a documents provided to you, or export certain documents to TrialPad for a mediation or trial, this app can help. During an Export you choose to include or exclude documents based on various criteria, including whether they have been reviewed or not, have certain Tags assigned to them, or have specific Issue Codes.

DocReviewPad works with cloud services: Box, Citrix ShareFile, Dropbox, Transporter, and WebDAV. You can also use email or the File Sharing feature in iTunes to import or export your documents

To download the DocReview User guide, click here. To learn more about his and other apps from LitSoftware, visit their homepage.

If you are looking for an alternative to Adobe Acrobat DC to help you organize, mark up and bates number documents in litigation, consider DocReviewPad because it will let you organize and review on the go with ease.

Related

TrialPad Update for DocReviewPad In "App"

TrialPad Upgrade Updated In "App"

TranscriptPad - Organize Transcripts on the Go In "App"

Leave a Reply

Drafts 4 Updated

iWork iOS Suite Updated